this book is an invitation to study managerial uses of accounting information three themes run throughout first the accounting system is profitably thought of as a library of financial statistics answers to a variety of questions are unlikely to be found in prefabricated format but valuable information awaits those equipped to in the accounting library is most interrogate the library second the information unlikely to be the only information at the manager s disposal so knowing how to combine accounting and nonaccounting bits of information is an important indeed indispensable managerial skill finally the role of a professional manager is emphasized this is an individual with skill talent and imagination an individual who brings professional quality skills to the task of managing this book also makes demands on the reader it assumes the reader has had prior exposure to financial accounting economics statistics and the economics of uncertainty in the form of risk aversion and decision trees a modest acquaintance with strategic or equilibrium modeling is also presumed as is patience with abstract notation the book does not make deep mathematical demands on the reader an acquaintance with linear programming and the ability to take a simple derivative are presumed the major prerequisite is a tolerance for if not a predisposition toward abstract notation this style and list of prerequisites are not matters of taste or author imposition this edited volume is based on the European Law Institute's project the rescue of business in insolvency law which ran from 2013 to 2016 the project sought to investigate and articulate the essential features of well functioning procedures for the rescue of distressed but viable businesses although the focus was primarily on the design and implementation of formal procedures that is those provided by law the project also required consideration of the interaction between such procedures and informal solutions to distress given the obvious cost advantages of the latter the ELI project was not confined exclusively to restructurings since these are only one possible route to maximising the value of a distressed but viable business an auction procedure in which the business is sold on a going concern basis to a new owner is one obvious alternative the ELI project encompasses various aspects of both public constitutional law and insolvency law that may have a bearing on the functionality of formal restructuring procedures
